Lexington is governed by a five-member elected City Council. Regular meetings of the City Council are on the second and fourth Tuesdays at 5:30 p.m. The City employs a professional manager who oversees day-to-day operations. Lexington Utilities System provides or administers electric, water, sewer and trash removal.

Lexington Public Library

907 N Washington Street, 308-324-2151

Lexington's 18,528 square feet Public Library opened in late 2005, replacing the previous 40-year-old 4,950 square feet facility.

Besides being a beautiful public structure, the new Lexington Public Library offers three technology centers which are capable of housing 36 public use computers. There are also four public meeting rooms, private study rooms, youth activity centers and children's risers for story time and other performing arts. The Library regularly brings in authors, musicians and storytellers to enhance lifelong learning opportunities for local residents.

Grand Generation Center

407 E 6th Street, 308-324-2498

Lexington's 12,500 square feet senior center is regularly open

Monday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. 3,500 square feet was added in 2007, at which time upgrades and improvements were added to the existing structure. Center staff serve reasonably-priced public meals at noon Monday through Friday. They offer games, crafts, exercise opportunities, occasional evening meals, entertainment, dances and bingo. The GGC also provides meals-on-wheels to shut-ins, with assistance from many valued volunteers.

Parks & Recreation

Lexington boasts eight public parks with more than 100 acres of outdoor recreation space. Two of the largest parks are graced with recently renovated lakes that feature handicap accessible fishing piers and lots of new trails. Both lakes are stocked with fish from the Nebraska Game & Parks Commission. There are four tennis courts, several ball fields, soccer fields, basketball and volleyball courts, Frisbee golf, a skate park, walking trails, and numerous picnic shelters and playground features.

The Lexington Family Aquatic Center features an Olympic-sized lap pool, and zero-depth pool with a water slide, as well as a splash pad.

More recent improvements include an indoor hitting facility for baseball and golf practice; and the Lexington Fieldhouse, a 27,000 square feet indoor sports activities building.

Downtown Revitalization

In 2010 Lexington initiated a Downtown Revitalization Project. Spurred by a $350,000 Community Development Block Grant (CDBG), both public and private improvements were made. Adding local contributions, more than $600,000 was invested in Lexington's downtown. Subsequently the City secured CDGB funding to make additional improvements in and around the downtown, including street and sewer upgrades, and renovation of the downtown Majestic Theatre.

Dawson County Opportunity Center

1501 Plum Creek Parkway

In 2010 The City of Lexington took the lead in developing the Dawson County Opportunity Center. Once a vacated "big-box store," it's now a buzzing hive of activity. DCOC is home to the Lexington campus of Central Community College, the Lexington Area Chamber of Commerce, Dawson Area Development, a branch of the Nebraska Department of Labor, Lexington Public Schools Early Learning Academy, and a regional call center for Nebraska Department of Health & Human Services.

Lexington is at the crossroads of several highways. Highway 30 and Interstate 80 are the main east-west by-ways across Nebraska, while Highways 283 and 21 connect locations from South Dakota to Kansas. Travelers in the past also made their way through Dawson County using one or more of five trails.

Oregon Trail

Possibly the most well known trail made its way through Dawson County, the Oregon Trail. The route was the most widely used of all the trails, with more than half a million people using the route for over 25 years. Many of the area's early communities can trace roots to the trail.

Pony Express Route

A symbol of growth westward during the 1800s, the Pony Express was the first link to early settlers. The service was short-lived, operating from 1860-1861, delivering between St. Joseph, MO and Sacramento, CA until the advent of the telegraph.

Mormon Trail

Nearly 100,000 early adventurers crossed near the future site of Lexington by following the Mormon Trail.

The trail loosely followed the north bank of the Platte River, which later proved to be a viable footprint for the Lincoln Highway and Interstate 80.

Lincoln Highway

The nation's first transcontinental auto route ran along the Platte River. U.S. Highway 30, recognized as the Lincoln Highway, still serves as an east-west route across Nebraska.

Union Pacific Railroad

The Iron Road was the name given to the first transcontinental railroad. In 1865, Union Pacific began laying rails along the Great Platte River Road, and promoted settlement by selling land in the fertile Platte River Valley.

Lexington, located in Dawson County, has a very rich history. It was first established as a frontier trading post in 1860 by Daniel and Louisa Freeman. It sat along Plum Creek across from a Pony Express station south of the Platte River. They provided goods to the people traveling along the Oregon and California trails and traded with the many Indian tribes that were still in the area. Louisa writes in her diary that they got along well with the Indians though many of the white settlers did not and as a result much of Plum Creek fell victim to several attacks. The most famous being the Plum Creek Massacre of 1864 and the Turkey Leg raid of 1867. The Plum Creek Massacre has been portrayed in a book called "Captive of the Cheyenne" written by Russ Czaplewski and published by the Dawson County Historical Society. It tells the true account of Nancy Jane Morton's capture by the Cheyenne Indians and the attack on her wagon train.

When the Union Pacific Railroad was built through Dawson County, the Freemans moved their store across from the new depot. The town was called Plum Creek. Louisa writes in her diary that their store was on the first level of their new big house and they boarded newcomers on the second level. Daniel Freeman became the first county clerk and operated the first Plum Creek newspaper called the "Dawson County Banner." Daniel threw himself into bringing people from the east to settle this small town of Plum Creek and was often away from home. It was during one of these trips that he drowned in the Platte River. Louisa and her children remained in the Plum Creek vicinity until she died at the age of 86.

With the building of the Union Pacific Railroad and the rise of the locomotive, the small town of Plum Creek began to expand. People came from all over the United States and settled in Dawson County. I.P. "Print" Olive, a cattleman from Texas, was drawn by the vast prairies central Nebraska had to offer. His family, including his parents and a few siblings, settled in Plum Creek and quickly became a prominent family in the area. Ira Olive, Print's brother, was more of a businessman while Print and their younger brother Bob, loved the life of the cowboy and ran their cattle business. But times were changing as more and more homesteaders settled the area and the cattleman and farmers argued over land rights. One such argument between the Olive family and two homesteaders ended with Bob Olive being shot and killed. In vengeance, Print Olive shot and hanged the homesteaders. A crime he would pay for in the Nebraska State Penitentiary. This caused quite a stir in the little town of Plum Creek and the story was later made into a book called "The Ladder of Rivers" by Harry E. Chrisman.

Plum Creek quickly became known as a "cowboy" town. Even though it continued to grow, and business was booming the community became worried that it would soon have a bad name, and nobody would want to settle in a town filled with scalawags and gun fighters. Several of the community leaders got together and decided to rename the town. Maybe if it had a more "regal" name things would change. In 1889, by a write-in vote, the town name was changed to Lexington.

With the construction of a new bridge over the Platte River south of Lexington and the designation of Lexington as the county seat the community soon became a trading hub. To accommodate all the new people coming into town the community leaders once again came together to build a new luxurious hotel in 1890 called "The Cornland." It was known as the best hotel between Omaha and Denver and offered all the latest amenities such as steam heat and gas lighting.

Throughout the years Lexington has seen many changes in business and population. Some good, some bad, but it continues to grow and draw people from a wide variety of ethnic backgrounds just as it did when it was the small town of Plum Creek. The Overland Trails were taken over by the railroad and then came the motor car and Lexington changed yet again to accommodate the Lincoln Highway traffic. Motels, diners, and gas stations sprang up along what we now refer to as Highway 30. In the 1960s the interstate system came through south of Lexington causing the town to grow rapidly in that direction. Overland commerce has never stopped in Lexington, it's merely changed.

In 1973, Lexington was named an "All American City" by the National Civic League with Dawson County receiving the "All American City" award in 1993. It is the only county in Nebraska to be so honored. Lexington also has three buildings listed on the National Register of Historic Places: The Olive House at 401 E 13th St., the Dawson County Courthouse located at 7th and Washington St., and the H.V.

Temple House at 305 E 13th St. The downtown still has brick streets and many structures have been restored, such as the Majestic Theatre which was taken on as a project by the Lexington Public School system and is now operated by the school and a group of volunteers.

To learn more about Lexington's history visit the Dawson County Historical Museum and the Heartland Museum of Military Vehicles where the area's history is proudly displayed!

709 E. Pacific, Lexington

Lexington is the county seat of Dawson County. Dawson County operates under a commissioner form of government with five commissioners elected to four-year terms on a staggered basis. The commissioners represent different districts on the board. The county also has a seven-member planning commission with members appointed by the county commissioners to staggered three-year terms.

The City of Lexington operates with the Council-Manager form of government. Council members serve four-year terms. Elected at-large by the public, they in turn select one of the five as mayor for a two-year term. The Council engages the City Manager to oversee the day-to-day operations of the City.

Lexington also has a nine-member planning commission with members appointed for three-year terms.

The Lexington Police Department has a force of 20 full-time sworn officers, and two civilian office staff. The Lexington Volunteer Fire Department shares space and emergency equipment with the Rural Fire Department, which handles emergencies on a contract basis to surrounding rural areas.

Dawson County Sheriff's Office has a staff of 62, including deputies, jail staff, office staff and part-time employees. Regular patrol provides protection to rural and residential communities throughout the county.

The county has combined dispatch services with the communities of Lexington, Overton, Cozad, Sumner, Eddyville and the Johnson Lake area.
